Why not Steady Date?

People you interact with shape your personality and help you figure out who you are... a boyfriend limits your interactions to one person, giving you less opportunities to develop. Hormones at this age influence your judgement in strange ways. It's the only time in your life you can date without marriage pressure. It weakens the temptation to get into trouble if you only group date, and the prophet said so.

Pro-marriage Dating Habits

Mr. Right can't date you if you are with Mr. Wrong. Be willing to end bad relationships. It's not a race to the altar. For the right person, it's worth any wait it takes to find him! The Lord knows you and who is right for you. Trust Him and pray for guidance. While you're waiting, be wise. Fill your lamp full of oil: education, traveling, career, etc. Be like the person you want to marry, remember like attracts like!

Marriage

Marriage is more than a Wedding

Your wedding day is only 24 hours. Pick someone that works for eternity. Don't assume you have the same values, take time to know eachother before marriage. Make this decision with the Lord, of all the choices you make this one must not be wrong. Be worthy for the grandest blessing you can get: an eternal marriage starting in the temple!
